1. General Information

1.1. Programme Title

Minor Programme in Management of Human Resources
人力资源管理副修

1.2. Academic Unit Involved in the Delivery of the Programme

The Minor Programme in Management of Human Resources is to be offered by the Management of Human Resources Programme and administered under the Faculty of Business and Management.

1.3. Programme Aims, Objectives and Intended Learning Outcomes

The Minor Programme in Management of Human Resources aims to provide students with comprehensive understanding of the field of Management of Human Resource to complement the knowledge of their major field of studies. The field of Management of Resource Management is ubiquitous such that in all industries, managers have to work with human resource issues. The structure of this Minor Programme provides students with a foundation of knowledge and techniques in Management of Human Resource, allowing the students to develop the skills required to become competent managers. Upon completion of this minor programme, the students will be equipped with the analytical and problem solving skills to handle human resource-related issues in their respective specialty fields.

Table 1 outlines the Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs) of the Minor Programme in Management of Human Resources; whereas, Table 2 delineates the alignment of its PILOs with the Graduate Attributes (GAs) of UIC.

Table 1: Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs)

Upon successful completion of the Minor Programme in Management of Human Resources, students should be able to
PILO 1	Explain the theories and principles of human resource management and apply these theories and practice techniques in tackling real-world human resource problems and issues;
PILO 2	Enhance students' awareness of the impact of culture in leading and motivating employees by analysing human relationships within an organisation;
PILO 3	Integrate knowledge and skills in a multiple set of business-related disciplines to solve diverse real-life problems, based on the analytical and problem-solving skills they have developed.
