1. General Information

1.1. Programme Title

Minor Programme in English Studies
英语副修

1.2. Academic Unit Involved in the Delivery of the Programme

The Minor Programme is to be offered by the English Language and Literature Studies (ELLS) Programme and administered under the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences.

1.3. Programme Aims, Objectives, and Intended Learning Outcomes

The general aim of the Minor Programme is to provide students with a solid foundation in English studies so as to prepare them to be competitive in rapidly changing career opportunities and job market globally. Specifically, the programme objectives are to provide students with:

1. English language competence through focused and interactive courses in literature and language.
2. Practical, analytical and creative skills that can be applied to specialized areas such as business, education, publishing, and other fields.
3. An interdisciplinary perspective through the study of specialized topics in language and professional communication.

Table 1 outlines the Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs) of the Minor Programme in English Studies whereas Table 2 delineates the alignment of the PILOs with the Graduate Attributes (GAs) of UIC.

Table 1: Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs)

Upon successful completion of the Minor Programme in English Studies, students should be able to:
PILO 1	Communicate in English clearly, critically and creatively within diverse academic contexts for professional and personal growth;
PILO 2	Identify and evaluate the main approaches and theories within the fields of language and literary studies and professional communication;
PILO 3	Analyse and research data on language use and communication in literary and socio-cultural contexts.
