1. General Information

1.1. Programme Title

Minor Programme in Theatre and Performance
剧场与表演副修

1.2. Academic Unit Involved in the Delivery of the Programme

The Theatre and Performance Programme is under the Cinema and Television (CTV) Programme and administered by the School of Culture and Creativity.

1.3. Programme Aims, Objectives and Intended Learning Outcomes

The Minor Programme in Theatre and Performance aims at talented individuals with passion and initiative who would like to enhance their skills in acting, directing, designing, writing and producing a variety of projects in live and mediated performance projects. The Programme provides opportunities for students to pursue their interest in commercial driven, fine art driven, and social engagement forms of performance. The curriculum supports both studio-based learning and critical engagement. Foundational theoretical courses and hands-on engagement equip students to think critically and practice creatively. After taking the Minor Programme, students will be equipped with a foundation of theatre-related courses including stagecraft, acting, voice, movement and directing, and will be able to take the opportunity to combine artistic practice with other academic pursuits. Table 1 outlines the Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs) of the Minor Programme in Theatre and Performance whereas Table 2 delineates the alignment of its PILOs with the Graduate Attributes.

Table 1: Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs)

Upon successful completion of the Minor Programme in Theatre and Performance, students should be able to:
PILO 1	Demonstrate systematic knowledge and profound understanding about theatre and performance by explaining relevant theories and concepts in variety of contexts.
PILO 2	Apply collaboration, management and leadership skills and standards in work situations and practices, with social consciousness, ethical responsibility, critical thinking and civic attitudes.
PILO 3	Demonstrate aesthetic sensibility, creativity, and cultural literacy by combining these with other academic pursuits.
